THOSE attending the Carnivale launch will be in for melodic treat with three finalists of the Song of Carnivale set to perform.

With the heats having already taken place, the three finalists will play once more at the official Carnivale Launch party at the Combined Club on April 19.

The three podium singer song writers set to play in front of the crowd are Shirley Lynn - who will perform 'My Kind of Paradise',

Sophie O'Gorman-Petrack with 'We have it all' and Grey Opetaiia with 'Welcome one and all'

Port Douglas Radio is once again the major sponsor for Song of Carnivale.

Event organiser Kim Hurley said there was some great talent involved this year.

"To aid in determining who the winner is, the general public will be invited to vote for their favourite by listening to the songs online at www.facebook.com/radiopordouglas," she said.

"The peoples choice vote will go towards the judges final decision, after their performances at the 2013 Carnivale launch on Friday April 19.

"The winner will be announced on Monday April 22 and they will also be recording their winning song at ShowBiz Productions the same day.

"The 2013 Song of Carnivale will be available to hear from Friday April 26."

Listen and vote for your favourite at the facebook page.
